A vibrant green four-leaf clover, a symbol of good luck. The clover has four distinct, rounded leaflets with prominent veins, set against a plain white background.

Besides its association with the Irish and their culture, the shamrock was also a religious symbol in pre-Islamic Arabia. Before the rise of Islam in the 7th century CE, people of the Arabian Peninsula worshipped a trio of goddesses known as Manat, Al-Uzza and Al-Lat. The three-leaved shamrock was used as a visual symbol for these goddesses and, in fact, one possible etymological origin of “shamrock” is the Arabic word ‘shamrakh’.
