Superstitions, Omens, Beliefs

"Things happen in three's" THEY REALLY DO!

Handed down through the ages of time are many different superstitions. It may be about a certain Charm or Amulet that you wear to protect, ward off, or attract certain things. Or it may be about every day things like a black cat crossing your path, or walking under a ladder. All these things I will try to show you as I know them. Some of them may sound stupid, some may sound more realistic. You make the ultimate decision on what to believe and what not to. You make your own truth!

ALL BELIEFS ARE LISTED ALPHABETICALLY:

ARROW - Symbol of desire and virility.

ARROW HEADS - Worn as an amulet to ward off evil.

BEES - Bearers of goodwill. symbol of virginity.

BELLS - Symbolizes peace and non-violence. Used to ward off evil influences. Legend has it that demons cannot stand the sound of bells.

BALANCE - Symbolizes justice.

BORE - Symbolizes evil according to ancient Thebes.

BROOM - If a broom falls in your home... unwelcome company will come to visit you.

CATS - Cats worn on a brooch or amulet bring good luck. A black cat crossing your path is considered bad luck.

CRACKS - Step on a crack, break your mothers back.

CRANE - Symbolic bird of the sun.

CROSS-ROADS - Considered to be the ultimate place to do black magic.

DOG - A dog following you home is a good omen.
